PLYMOUTH PRAYER MEETING. ERECHER PAYS A GLOWING TRIBUTE TO THE

CHARACTER OF DR. BACON. Warm weather has not the slightest effect on the attendance at Plymouth prayer meetings. Last night the lecture room was filled to overflowing. After the regular exercises Mr. Beecher said :-BEECHER'S TALK.

"There is a vast diversity of fact in regard to the primitive experience of Christian life. I suppose men educated aright would never know the time when they entered the kingdom of God, for Christianity has the principles of hereditary transmission. The parents of religious children are thomselves the children of religious parents. We recognize in Scripture that the seed of the blessed is most likely to be blessed. But for the larger part people occome Christians after they become adults, and every person converted in after life has a personal experience dependent entirely upon their education and habits. It is a mistake to suppose that conversion is like a clock that goes round and round till the hour strikes, then everything changes, that conversion is like a clock that goes round and round till the hour strikes, then everything changes, the bell has rung. Some complain that they have not the same feelings that they had when first converted, that they have gone back. The first emotion of love is not the strongest, it develops itself in every direction. I am sorry for any Christian whose first experience is his best.

After Mr. Beecher had finished his talk he gave an opportunity for any who chose to speak, and Dr. Edwird Beecher rose and said:—I think the brothers and sisters will be glad to hear what we did at the council of the Orange Valley church. It was believed that a communication would be made explaining the reason why some of the brethren invited would not be present, but when the inquiry was made for any communication addressed to the council nothing of the kind appeared, and he could not see that the absence of the two orethren who declined affected the involvements of the nuiverse at all. The business went forward without them. As to the young minister I would say that the impression with regard to him was very favorable indeed, and we ordaned him without any besitation. Mr. Beecher then said:—"I defend the liberty of the individual Church; I defend the right of any church to say they won't go to a council. I defend the right of the Church of the Pilgrims to say they won't attend a Council because Plymouth church to refuse to attend all councils around here. Above sil, I defend the right of all churches to refuse to attend all councils. I believe in the independence of a chirch; but my church don't, and they are too many for methy overrule me. For myself, I cannot say I feel bad to see some independent churches springing up out of our midst, instead of the old fashioned Puritanical ones.

our midst, instead of the old fashioned Purishical ones.

Brother Raymond here rose and impressed upon the congregation that all the Congregational churches of Brooklyn had been invited to attend this Council, and that all had secepted, with the exception of thes. Budington and Storrs. He then went on to say:—No one knows what this church owes to Dr. Bacon, It was his devotion to the preparation of the Council, in which we were so signally successful, that he lost his health and is now obliged to retire from the pulpit.

Mr. Breecher's face flushed at the recollection thus brought up, and he said, in avolec trembling with emotion. "I want to confirm, and, if possible, add to it is testimony. I have been reticent on this subject for two reasons—the first, because of delicacy, and second, on account of prudence. A very great number of brethren in the Christian ministry have felt it needful to look well to their steps, and it would be wrong for me to say that during the trouble it has pleased God to bring on us we have been abandoned by our Christian friends, because I think the great majority have been before God daily in our behalf, but a declaration of that, in any form that should be made public, for reasons of prudence, and for a fear of being obtrusive, has withheld very many of these testimonials. It was so with our brother Bacon, although he wrote to me once and continued to write when he saw the lic, for reasons of prudence, and for a fear of being obtusive, has withheld very many of these testimonals. It was so with our brother Bacon, although he wrote to me once and continued to write when he saw the necessity; yet he was very delicate in anything like pressing himself upon me. Yet I needed him and called upon him, and although he was then trembling on the verge, he tever spared himself, and he said two or three times. "If I could only live to be present at the Council I would be willing to the down and die. "I think he is one of the sweetest-minded, most delicate and honorable of the young ministers I have met; a man to be loved by those to whom the word "love" is as secred as the heart of Christ. So I love him. Full of sensibility, if I had done wrong, and he thought it, he would have come to me and said it; but to backbite, to whisper, is impossible to him, and it was that declaration of love for me that led the ministers to but the for the that led the ministers to but the many of the ment of Christ in this propose no man ever carried the heart of Christ in this life, who has not known a thousand times when he could say, "To die with Him would be better than to live."

The Examining Committee met after prayer meeting to converse with any who desired to join the church on the next Sabbath.

THE CASE OF MOULTON VS.

THE CASE OF MOULTON VS. BEECHER.

The Supreme Court to-day, in reversing Judge Dyck-man's decision in the case of Moulton vs. Beecher, held that an order directing a noile proseque is a sufficient termination of the prosecution of an indictment to permit in action for laise imprisonment to be brought thereon.

PLUMB VS. M'GUIRE.

Mr. Andrew Jackson Plumb, formerly a liberal republican, entered the Custom Bouse yesterday to go to his office, in the Ninth division, in a very excited condition; or not to put too fine a point upon Mr. McMichael, chief of the bond room, where Plumbs desk is situated, relieved him by transferring another bond cierk to his place. Plumb resented this, called the other cierk an "Irish Roman Catholic....." and wanted to know what he was doing at his desk. McGuire, the insuited servener, did not strike him, but to show his disgust at Plumb's conduct spat in his face. Deputy Colector Phelps reported the affair to Collector Arthur, with the suggestion that A. J. Plumb should be "reduced." Mr. Plumb is a prominent politician of the Nineteenth Assembly district.

DEATH FROM OPIUM.

Coroner Ellinger held an inquest yesterday in the case of Mrs. Eliza Crayton, who died at the house of her daughter, Mrs. Ruck, No. 276 West Tenth street, a few days since. It was alleged that deceased had taken a dose of opium, from the effects of which she died. It was stated at the inquest that the deceased had been in the habit of taking opium in large quantities daily and the habit of taking opium in large quantities daily and sometimes hourly, and that the dose was usually from fifteen to twenty grains. This excessive use of the drug, it was alteged, undermined her health, and her sauden death was the result.

The jury rendered a verdict of death from poison.

Mr. Peter Ruck, Jr., said to a Harald reporter that the death of Mrs. Eliza Crayton was not sudden, as reported to the Coroner. The deceased lady at the time of her detnise was seventy years and four months old, and she was in the full possession of her inculties and aware of her approaching ead. She had been ill for three months previous and bedridden through lameness. For some time prior to her deach she had not taken any opium at all. It is true, however, that she had been compelled during the past thirty years to take opium almost daily, but not in large doze, as stated. She never suffered apparent evil consequences from the drug, and did not die while under its influence. The reason that the Coroner came in was because the family physician's certificate or death mentioned as among the complications of deceased's disorders "paraiysis of the stomach, consequent on the constant use of opium." It was satisfactorily explained to the official, however, that opium poisoning did not kill Mrs. Crayton, who was buried on Thursday. An annuity of $5,000, which she had enjoyed through his, ceased at her death, and did not revert to the lamity.

PROSPECTS OF THE SEASON.

PROSPECTS OF THE SEASON.

There is no doubt now but what the season will be a There is no adot now but what the season will be a success. Toe private boarding houses have commenced to fill up, and the Ocean House, which opens on Monday, expects to be full a portion of the season. It can accommodate about five hundred guesta. The proprietors have engaged Professor Lander's orchestra of New York. The little Aquidneck House, near Touro Park, as its expenses, compared to the Ocean House, are not very heavy, always does a good business, and is a popular resort for those who desire a quiet, comfortable home. Hartmann's Maison Meubide so tar this senson has had a very good run of trade, and it this season has had a very good run of trade, and it will be extensively patronized a few weeks later by the members of the Narragansett Gun Ciub, Polo Club, &c. The Kay Street House is open, but as yet but few of its rooms have been reuted. The hotel keepers anticipate a good season, and say that the indications are better than they were last year. They claim that the transient travel will make business very lively, in view of the attraction at Philadelphia, and for this reason they have made arrangements accordingly. It is reported that they had much rather have transient than permanent guests—the former, we presume, being more profitable. This may account for the fact that no more rooms are engaged at the hotels Many of the private boarding house keepers have materially reduced the price of board, but this has been brought about simply by the competition in business.

ter to engage a family early in the season than to wai the same price. They justly claim that provisions are as high as they were last season, and for this reason alone they should not be obliged to reduce the price of board; but economy as the watchword, and the visitors are determined to go the rounds before deciding where they will locate for the summer.

THE WESTCHESTER POLOCLUS will transfer their game from Jerome Park, New York, to this city about the middle of July, and the manner born rejoice that the members of the ciub have selected Newport as their numbers of the club have selected.

Newport as their number resort. The location of the grounds—the extreme southern end of Thames street—is all that could be desired, and it is doubtful if a more eligible site could have been selected anywhere else in the city. It contains about ten acres, and a huge steam where the country is the country of the eligible site could have been selected anywhere cise in the city. It contains about ten acres, and a huge steam roller is now engaged in levelling it down. It will take about three weeks to get it in order. It is being anclosed with a fence some nine feet high, in order to have it as excitative as possible. It is proposed to play three practice gaines per week, and two or three prize games every month. Near by sultable statles have been engaged, and without coult everything will be in readiness for the famous game by the lath of July. Before that time it will be necessary to have it mowed three or four times, and lawn mowers for the grenter part of the season will have to be constantly employed. The good people who live bere all the year round are abxiously inquiring whether they will have an opportunity to winness the sport. They say they will pay almost any price in order to witness the fun. There is no doubt that the club will admit all who are worthy to be admitted and who are willing to obey their rules and regulations.

THE NARRAGANSKIT GUN CLUS, whose membership is composed almost wholly of the summer residents, are looking forward to an interesting season's sport at their grounds in Middletown, about two miles from Newport. The members of the club need have no fear of being molested by an officer belonging to a society with a long name. Said society is a weak institution bere, and as sue Legislature recently rejused to take any notice of several positions against pigeon sheoting, it is safe to predict that the sport will go on as usual. To the credit of the residents of this city the petitions did not originate here; nother grests. The gun club is a credit to the piace, and whenever a match is in progress the utmost order prevails, and the spectators are composed of some of the first families, who spend their summer here. The opposition to pigoon shooting had its origin in fevordence, probably originating out of envy to her sister capital in being favored with this and other attractions. It is shough th lere somewhat with the gun club arrangements, but this, no doubt, will be initially arranged at the proper time.

A RIFLE RANGE

has been constructed near the grounds of the Narragan-ett Gun Club, and it is proposed to arrange another one in Portsmouth. The latter is too lar in the country to be a success, and the former will not be liable to be extensively patronized by the summer residents, owing to the other attractions of the season. Both will have 1,000 yard ranges, and they will look principally to Newport's guests for support.

THE COACHING CLUS

will be well represented, and Mr. Delancey Rane, whose mother has rented a villa on Bellevue avenue, is expected here with his coach next month. Mr. Augustus Whiting's new coach is daily attracting attention, and he always has it full of guests when out on the avenue for the afternoon drive. It was built by Hooper & Co., of London, and is complete in all its arrangements. The President of the club, and the Vice President, Mr. William P. Douglass, and several of the Governing and Executive Committee, will spend the summer here. Mr. Douglass has resuled the little Deacon cottage, better known as the Parker estate, on Bellevue avenue.

The Newport Yacht Club has organized by the election of the following officers:—Commodore, Louis L. Larillard, of New York; Yice Commodore, Louis L. Larillard, of New York; Treasurer, Samuel F. Pratt, of Boston; Secretary, K. W. Brewerton, of Newport; Measurer, Richard Yeomans, of Newport. The club have engaged a suitable building on Long Island and are looking forward to a very interesting senson's sport. Quite a large number of the auminer residents are interested in the new club.

PRASONAL GOSSIP.

Admiral Hoff, U. S. N., and family have taken rooms at a private house, as has also his son, Lleutenant Commander W. B. Hoff, U. S. N., in command of the United States torpede boat Alarm, now at Philadelphia. Miss Porter, daughter of Admiral Porter, has also taken apartments at a private house.

Ason of Mr. George Bancroft, ex-Minister

C. N. Beach, of Hartford, at the latter's villa on Kay street.

A son of Mr. George Bancroft, ex-Minister to Germany, has rested an unpretentious cottage on Paradise road, near the famous Hanging Rocks, where His Excellency Dom Pedro made a flying visit last Sunday.

Mr. Theodore F. Havemeyer, the Austrian Consul at New York, has arrived at the villa of Mrs. Loring Andrews, on Bellevoe avenue. Mr. Hugo O. Fritsch will spend the summer with him. Mr. Havemeyer has some of the linest turnouts in the place, which will attract considerable notice during the reason.

His Honor Mayor Bedlow, Mr. George R. Fearing, Mr. Augustus Whiting, Mr. Fsirman Rogers, Mr. Havemeyer and Mr. Frisch will drive four-in-hands.

The Countess Banucios and her daughters have arrived from Madrid and have taken rooms in Catharino street. It is rumored that the Beginn Minister, Maurice del Fosse, will spend the swamer here, as usual. C. PBliot, of the Swedish Legation, is at the Aquidneck House.

The flag on the Newport Club House is at half-mast, the occasion being the death a few weeks ago, as announced in the Herald, of its president, Philip A. Stockton.

COLONEL FOWLER A FUGITIVE

A FORMER INTIMATE OF BOSS TWEED FLEES TO ESCAPE PUNISHMENT FOR EMBREZLEMENT. Colonel John Fowler, Jr., ex-Judge Advocate of First lawyer of ex-Bo-s W. M. Tweed, and bosom friend of General Tweed, son of the ex-Boss, has left his painting residence at New Rochelle, Westchester county, fo arts unknown, leaving habilities estimated at $200,000. He is believed by most of those interested in him to be now in Europe, but there are some who think he is hiding in Chicago. Among his victims is a Long Island farmer, named Carmen, who gave him $10,000 for investment, which sum Fowler, although he paid interest on it, embezzled. Fowler was counsel for a number of establishment. tates which are believed to have been plundered. Fowler once had offices at the corner of Futton and Nassau streets. Thence he removed to Broadway, into the Park Bank Building, where he neglected to pay his rent and likewise victimized the junitor by borrowing money. After he took to flight his safe was forced open and found to contain nothing. It may be remembered that Fowler fligured in the Taimmany expensures as one of the mon who received one of Davidson's sales without paying for it. When Tweed was in power Fowler did a large real estace business, but of late his business had dwindled to almost nothing at all. Fowler is a son of Judge Fowler, of Pennsylvania, and was married to the widow of the well known Royal Livingstone. By her he had a son, now it wonty-two years of age, who is a clerk in the Corporation Counsel's office. His wife, when he married her, was estimated to be worth $2,000. On one occasion, it is alleged, he forced himselt into her sick room and said if she would not advance him $4,000.

The fugitive is alleged to have spent a fortune upon a dissolute woman. About eighteen mouths ago Fowler was arrested "quietly" three times for refusing to pay over money he had received from the State to authorized claimants; but the matters were bestled and not made public. The arrests were made by officers from the Marshal's Bureau, in Nassau street.

Mr. M. Clark, autorney for Sabin & Co., the mortgagees of Fowler's library, on which they find advanced $5,000, has seized the books, &c., sud they are to be sold on the 26th inst.

The tugitive was a member of the Americus and several Frith avenue clubs. General Shaler is credited with having caused his resignation from the National Guard "lor cause." Fowler was of necessity a leading light of Taimmany Hall.

FALL FROM AN HOSPITAL WINDOW.

Shortly before three o'clock yesterday morning Mary Gerry, a patient in the Chambers Street Hospital, was found lying on the sidewalk in front of the building found lying on the indewalk in front of the building dying from injuries she had received by falling. She was taken inside, and being asked how she came there stated that she had unpleasant dreams, and not being able to sleep attempted to get out. It appeared on investigation that white delirious she took advantage of the temporary absence of her attendant, and, getting out of bed, tred the biankies together. She then lowered herself from the fourth story window, but as the rope did not reach to the ground by fifty tect she released her hold and fell. Death ensued within a new hours, she having received tatal internal injuries, besides fractures of the arm and leg.

The deceased was fifty-two years of age, a native of Ireland and lived in Vandewater street. She entered the hospital on Wednesday last, to be treated for a broken arm received by falling down states.

A HOAX.

In consequence of an advertisement in one of the morning papers, calling for 3,000 men to go to the Black Hills, there assembled yesterday on the corner of Greene and Fourth streets (the place designated in of Greene and Fourth streets (the place designated in the advertisement), about 500 men and boys. At nine o'clock the crowd had taken possession of a lagerbeer saloen on the southwest corner of the intersection of the streets named, and as they heard nothing in refer-ence to the proposition advertised a row seemed im-minent. Nothing more convenient at hand, the en-raged men singled out the proprietor of the saloen as the object of their vengeance. The timely arrival of the police prevented a disturbance and dispersed the arows. THE EXHIBITION.

FRONT ELEVATION OF A DWELLING HOUSE OF THE BARDEN INDIANS ON VIEW-MODEL OF THE HELL GATE EXCAVATIONS-A DECIDED INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF VISITORS.

INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF VISITORS.

PHILADRIPHA, June 23, 1870.

There was to-day erected on the cast side of the government building a front elevation of one of the peculiar dwellings used by the Hardee Indians of the northwest coast of the American Continent.

A large and most valuable collection of models of these structures has for several weeks been exhibited in the building, but the façade now in position on the outside was taken bodily from a Hardee house and sent to the Exposition by Dr. J. W. Swan, a well known collector of linias curlastites in Alaska and British Columbia. The laçade is of cedar, 18 feet high by 40 feet in width, the distance from the base to the caves being about 14 feet. Its peculiar interest arises from the fact that it is completely covered with grotesque paintings, representing the mythological characters of Indian religion. The tribes inhabiting the islands of the North Pacific coast have an endless number of traditions or superstitions, which are invariably symbolized by paintings or carvings on every, thing they make, whether it be a house or a button. The figures are sometimes very faithfully drawn, but usually they are conventional representations of some strange idea. On each side of the door are two rudely painted whales, but these are made up of at least a dozen other animals. The body of the one on the right is filled with pictures of salmon heads, eels, human faces with glaring eyeballs; hideous figures, which may be either human or mythological. The blow-hole contains the distorted figure of a man, and on the back is a large salmon. The other whale much resembles this, except the human faces are even more hideous. Partly above and partly on each side of the door is painted a salmon. The other whale much resembles this, except the human faces are even more hideous. Partly above and partly on each side of the door is painted a grotesque picture somewhat resembling the human form, but the feet are represented as claws and the hands have each a large eye in the palm. Whenever the natives paint or carve a hand this eye always appears in the same spot and with the same number of lines, though the significance of the combination still remains a mystery. The elevation is bordered with green, dumpy pictures, supposed to be intended for human heads and bodies, with fearfully distorted limbs. The most curious part of this exhibit is the totem-post standing directly in front of the door. It is about twenty-two feet in height, with a large hole in the base, which serves as a vestibule to the door, and the post is carved from top to bottom with the most tedious forms imaginable. The first represents a mouster bear; above this is grotesque carving of lil-tads-dale, the mother of the Haidalis, and on top of this are two separated dumpy reliefs, supposed to be initiations of the faces and forms on the border. To every house crected by the Haidali, or Sitkatrites, the "totem" posts are regarded as indispensable, and it is believed that every ornament and every lime had at one time a significance, which may, however, have been lost in the lapse of time or only vaguely understood.

THE NEACHATIONS AT HELL GATE.

The southeastern corner of the government building contains a model of the excavations now being maste in the reof at Hailett's Point, Hell Gate. The model represents a portion of Long Island at that place, with houses, trees, &c., and near the Point are the machine shops, engines and engine houses erected for the purpose of keeping toos in ropair and compressing air and the motor of the drilling machines.

A dinner was given this evening to the British judges by the Canadian Commissioners at the Laisyette Restaurant.

On Monday evening a reception will be given to the foreign Commissioners an

UP IN A BALLOON.

THREE ASCENTS YESTERDAY OUTSIDE THE EX-RIBITION GROUNDS BY MR. LEO SCHEPP-WHAT A HERALD CORRESPONDENT SAW-A TRIP FROM PHILADELPHIA TO NEW YORK OF

was the successful trial ascension of a new mammoth bailoon, under the auspices of Mr. Leo Schepp, a wealthy New York public spirited business man, whe had the air whip built at his own expense, not for the purpose of money-making, the ascension being free to the public, but from a deire to contribute to the governl amusement and to aid in contributing to aeronautic science by a series of experiments in naviof trips between Philadelphia and New York by balspace of three weeks. It is made of the best drilling extra strong cords, and has had two vais of oil. The capacity of the balloon is about 42,000 cubic feet of gas, it being about eighty feet high when fully inflated and twenty-six feet in diameter. An open space of ground directly opposite the principal entrance to the Exhibi-tion grounds was secured immediately adjoining the Globe Hotel, and at noon an inflation was begun by means of a connection with the city gas mains.
Owing to the large size of the balloon it was nearly six o'clock before the bag was filled, by which time thousands of people had gathered about, blocking up the streets and requiring the aid of the police to keep sands of people had gathered about, blocking up the streets and requiring the aid of the police to keep room for the aeromauts and autondants to perfect the arrangements for an ascension. Shortly siter six all was announced to be in readiness. Mr. Charles Wise a son of the Professor, a Hurald correspondent and another gentleman stepped into the car, and the work "Let go" was given. A stout line attached to the concentrating ring was secured to a windlans, Professor Wise not thinking it expedient to make a free ascension until the new balloon had been tested.

This first ascension was not altogether a success, nor was the second, owing to some mismanagement, and the baloon was hauted in before a very great height was reached. The third ascension was a complete success. Upon this ascension John Wise, the younger, a lad of fifteen, grardson of the prolessor, was in cherge, and he unmisstably showed himself to be the seronaut of the lamily. The four passengers were young Wise, ex-Confederate Geperal Cook, one of the survivors of the Virginius massacre; the representative of an Albany paper and the Hurald correspondent. All the rope was let out, the balloon reaching a height of 600 feet, and so indescribably enchanting was the panoramic spread around and below in that we all repreted the imposs bifuty of going still higher. The tens of thousands of enthusiastic spectators in the streets and in the Exhibition grounds, out the tops of the houses and hotels, were apparently so many specks.

On one side the Centennial grounds and buildings made a beautiful picture almost at our feet, while beyond was the schuyskill, like a silver thread, winding in graceful curves between green hills; beyond were the valleys and hills intruching miles away up toward the interior of the State; on the other side was the Policumar, beyond the hills of New Jersey, and the Delaware, beyond the hills of New Jersey, and the Delaware, beyond the hills of New Jersey, and the Delaware, beyond the hills of New Jersey, and the Delaware, beyond the

THE REAL SECEDERS.

New York, June 22, 1876. In to-day's issue of your great paper is an article headed "The French Workingmen," in which it is said that the Communis's separated from the Workingmen's Committee to receive the French Workingmen's Dele-gation. The fact in this case is that the workingmen gation. The fact in this case is that the workingmen of this city have separated from a committee composed chiefly of persons engaged in speculative businesses of some kind or other, or in hone at all. Among them is only one workingman. Whereas in the committee which meets every night at No. 102 Prince street, the contrary is the case, all being working people of different origins, such as Russians, Germans, Swiss, Italians, Beigians, French, Irish, Ac., long residents, for the most part, and citizens of this country. By inserting the above in to-morrow's issue of your paper you will correct an erroneous statement, and oblige yours respectfully, THE CORMITTEE, 102 Prince street.

DRY DOCK SAVINGS BANK

The run on the Dry Dock Savings Bank is at an ond. Traterday there were only a few dozen persons whe appeared to withdraw their money, and some of those who had drawn it during the week returned to deposit it again. In consequence of the withdrawns of deposits during the ran the bank has saved in interest about $2.000.
